the art and the purpose

You're not built like your co-workers, so why should your chair be?

sophie, manager
of a yoga centre.

Despite her diminutive size, Sophie is a whirlwind of activity. Fortunately, she has a knack for maintaining a perfect balance between harmony and chi.

mark,
advertising copywriter.

While Mark may be of average size, there's nothing average about the way he works. Mulling over ideas for hours on end, he's hardly the 9 to 5 type! He gets lost in thought, pondering new, more creative approaches. After all, he's only as good as his last job!

financial manager.

A former football player, Alex has a rather impressive stature. But while his new profession requires more brain than brawn, he continues to give 110% of himself at all times.

Finally, a chair created for smaller people. Designed with a smaller seat, it provides remarkable comfort all day long. Great for meditation.

lilium PE33/BK50

medium wingo

Nothing average here either. This hyper-comfortable chair can be as imaginative as the one sitting in it, looking for a flash of creative genius.

moss PE30/BK20

large wingo

Finally, a chair designed for people like Alex. With its wider seat and higher back, it weighs in strongly when it comes to providing comfort to those with a physically impressive build.

a chair that embodies comfort

The wingo comes in three sizes tailored to the needs of those who use it. Its ingenious design results in a chair that conforms to the shape of the body, providing peerless comfort through the use of lateral supports and the Ultra-Flex® elastomere membrane, an Artopex exclusive! Inspired by car seat technology, the lateral reinforcements provide additional back support.

In addition, the remarkable flexibility of the Ultra-Flex® technology distributes the weight of the body evenly over the seat's entire surface.

Sensitive to movement, wingo reduces tension from head to seat, without compromising sturdiness.
